
Sermon Series: Book of Psalms

Background

The psalms demonstrate one of the most honest, raw, authentic emotion in Scripture. They express our deepest fear, anxiety, and sorrow imaginable. It is not surprising that psalms have been a favorite among God's people through many generations. They offer us ancient wisdom for contemporary situations.

Current Series

We are easily affected, cognitive and emotion, by what happens around us. However, we do not have to be the product of our environment. We can rise above our circumstance.

English Ministry

Our identity

We are non-denominational, Christ-centered, community focused church. A ministry that is culturally sensitive, radically innovative, and consistently biblical.

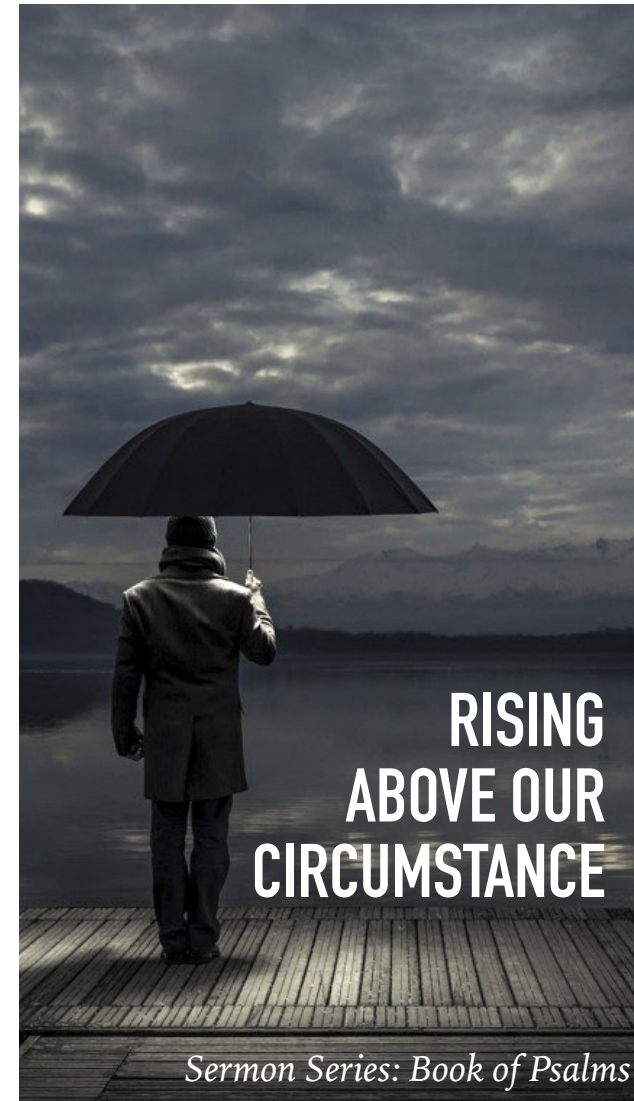

Our values

At its core, this ministry is about people. We are called to serve God by serving those around us. And the Gospel is the motivation behind all that we do:

- The gospel is central to our understanding about ourselves and the world around us.
- The gospel reveals our sinfulness, while at the same time offers us hope in Christ.
- The gospel demands authenticity from Christ followers.
- The Gospel is best lived-out in community.

Our mission

To build a community for all people that is transformed by the Gospel through personal conversion, that brings about spiritual and social renewal in the greater Philadelphia area, through acts of mercy and of service.
